THE MAC

Volume 8

McGraw Central School

McGRAW, NEW YORK

FOREWORD

Four years ago, The Mac started a continuous theme which has been carried through the succeeding years. In 1951 the school observed its first anniversary of centralization and in recognition of it the Yearbook's theme was the "Anniversary Edition of School Centralization." In that issue the history of education in McGraw was traced from its beginning in 1811 through its centralization in 1950. 1952 and 1953 brought construction of the new building and once again The Mac developed this idea into themes using "Construction and Expansion" in '52 and "Changing From the Old" in '53. In 1954 the new building was completed and used for the first time even though it still lacked a few finishing touches. The Mac, recognizing this, centered its book around "Finishing Touches."

In everyone of these previous themes the community has been involved indirectly. It was the community that recognized the need for centralization, approving it with an 85% majority vote. It was the community that recognized the need for construction and expansion, approving a $1.75 million bond issue with a 95% majority vote which is the highest vote ever received by any school bond issue in New York State.

This year we are bringing the community directly into the book. As a theme for this the 8th volume of The Mac we have chosen "Our School Reflects Our Town." Our town is not a large town nor is our school a large school. But size is no criteria. We of the school are proud of our community with its small factories, churches, farms and stores.

Our community has stood solidly behind us whether it be a vote for centralization, attendance at school functions or helping the school personnel.

It is with these thoughts in mind that we bring the community into our 1955 Mac for McGraw Central School is certainly a reflection of the school community.

DEDICATION

The Yearbook Club of 1955 wishes to dedicate the eighth edition of "The Mac" to Mrs. Florence Walters who has been our town librarian for thirty-four years. Mrs. Walters has always been interested in the children of McGraw. In the past when she had more time she came to the school to read and discuss books with the students. Every Saturday afternoon for the last several years she has had the Story Hour at the Lamont Library for the younger children of the town.

Mrs. Walters has a pleasant smile for everyone that comes into the Library, and she is always willing to help find just the "right book" for each reader.

Lamont Library is a community library and a community center for both the town and school. And to Mrs. Walters who has made it the pleasant center for all of us, we dedicate the 1955 Mac.

ADMINISTRATION

COMMUNITY AND . . .

The student body, faculty and employees of a school district make up a high percentage of its total population. Therefore the reputation of the school plays a very definite part in the reputation of the community. Using the same line of reasoning, the actions, criticisms, and support of the non-school members of the community toward the school also affect its reputation.

With very few exceptions the reputation of our school along with the other schools of the county has been very satisfactory. I have received many commendations on the good behavior of our students from outside groups that come in to put on assembly programs, guest conductors at musical festivals, athletic officials that handle our games as well as other individuals both in and out of our school district.

Only recently I had a letter from a minister in Binghamton making this comment after some of our students had helped him get his car out of the ditch during a snow storm. The following is quoted from his letter: "By this letter, besides thanking them for their courtesy, I want to commend your school for the training which produces such fine examples of American youth."

The school cannot and does not take all the credit for these comments. The parents at home, the churches and other organizations in the community play important parts in this development. Only by working together can we hope to not only maintain but improve the good characteristics of our young people.

SCHOOL SUPERVISION

The Student Council this year was under the supervision of Mr. Howe. It is composed of the class presidents and one other representative from grades seven through twelve. The purpose of the Student Council is for the students to be able to give their ideas and to work out other school problems that arise where the students can be a help.

This year the Student Council worked with Tully Central School on developing good sportsmanship at basketball games. When we went to Tully for a game they had a chart they marked according to our sportsmanship. The Student Council also voted for combination locks for the students who wanted them. We planned assemblies that we thought the other students would enjoy. We cooperated with the town recreation committee and the American Legion in providing social activities on Saturday nights.

We have been trying to work out a system for letter awards in sports which would eliminate some of the dissatisfaction with the present system. We have felt that perhaps a plan which would substitute bars or pins on one letter would be preferable to receiving so many separate letters. Altogether, this year has been a very busy one for our Student Council.

OUR DEPARTMENT . . .

Mrs. Allan Bean, the present manager, Mrs. William Bean, manager during the first part of the year, Mrs. David Moore and Mrs. Aden Ferris are the cafeteria staff, who prepare our lunch every day. They are shown here adjusting the food slicer (except for Mrs. Ferris who was not present at the time the picture was taken). Some of the food is prepared ahead of time and then frozen. This was done with our Christmas Dinner of turkey and dressing which was kept frozen until the day before our feast. We have three types of lunches—types A, C, and S. Type A may consist of a main dish, vegetable, salad or fruit, or the lunch of soup and sandwiches. With either lunch, we have milk and dessert. Type C permits us to purchase merely milk while Type S is the teachers meal which is the same as Type A. Some students are employed in the cafeteria.

Among the jobs they do are: acting as cashier, taking care of the ice cream, keeping bread, butter, and other dishes filled, dipping food, making extra sandwiches if needed, and operating the dishwasher.

OF PUBLIC WORKS

Mrs. Busekist giving an audiometer test to Jo Ann Williams.

Mrs. Busekist has a very important job in our school. She is always hurrying from room to room checking the health of our students. Besides being our school nurse, she is also the attendance officer. Mrs. Busekist is a delightful person always willing to help students whether it be in first aid or just friendly advice.

Mrs. Muriel Hulbert performs varied tasks. She types letters, handles telephone calls, files, gets the mail from the Public Post Office and files it in the School Post Office, and runs the Public Address System. Besides being secretary to Mr. Baer, she is Clerk of the Official Board. As clerk, she keeps the minutes of the meetings, figures the payroll, and writes out checks. Though she has much responsibility, she always has a pleasant smile for everyone.

First row: Frederick Strong, DePuy Freer, Everett Rulison, Orma Sheeder. Second row: Clarence Mayberry, James Wildman, Richard Morgan, Aden Gilbert.

The bus drivers have a great deal of responsibility carrying our students back and forth to school. These men do a great job and deserve a lot of credit. They drive in all kinds of weather and make it on time.

The school custodians deserve a great deal of credit for keeping the building and facilities in good condition. Besides their maintenance of the buildings they can be seen keeping the walks clear of snow in the winter and in spring they may be seen mowing and trimming the lawns. Even after they complete their workday, they contribute extra time and effort to assist the village organizations when they wish to use the school for business meetings and social events.

CLASSES

INDUSTRY . . . HERE WE COME

President, Eric Gabrielson; Vice President, Harry Cook; Secretary, Juanita Byron; Treasurer, Leona Martin; Student Council, Mary Lou Allore; Class Advisor, Mrs. Nellenback.

For the 23 members of the class of "55" this has been a wonderful year. It has marked the completion of twelve years of study, effort and fun. This was the Big Year. We were the first in the lunch line. We were Seniors. One Hundred Ninety-four days of adventure lay ahead. Almost before we knew it, the time had arrived for the Senior Play. There was the usual pre-performance chaos at rehearsals, but under the direction of Mrs. Anthony we made the grade and on November 4-5 we presented "The Importance of Being Young" to the public.

The scenery had barely disappeared when we began to sell yearbook ads. Working together we demonstrated our salesmanship on this project. Even as we sold ads, we were planning our trip. Room 33 was the scene of true "classroom democracy," as we voted, vetoed, and voted again on the trip's details. With everything planned, we left for New York and Washington on April 8. We enjoyed five enchanting days as we saw the sights of our largest city and the Nation's capitol. All too soon we were headed home. Our trip was over but we would never forget the fun we had experienced as we saw the Empire State Building, the UN Headquarters and the Statue of Liberty. We would never forget the beauty of the Capitol Building and the feeling of awe as we viewed the great monuments and documents that are in Washington.

All during these many activities, we had our daily classes with the usual homework. Surely no one had as much to do as we in such a short time. With words of friendly advice and help from Mrs. Nellenback, our class advisor, we solved many of the problems peculiar to Seniors and carried on through the big year. Our class was very active in extracurricular activities. Seven of our boys participated in sports during high school. We have been represented in Band, Chorus, Cheerleading, F.F.A. and many other organizations at M.C.S. During the year we selected our class flower, white carnation, our class colors, light blue and silver, and our class motto, "The greater the obstacle, the more glory in overcoming it."

Our Junior year is a busy one. Soon after school starts and we elect our officers, we start our Annual Magazine Sales. This year we set our goal for $1,200, but we didn't quite make our goal. Next in line comes our Junior Prom. This is a big event because it is the only formal dance of the year. We hire a dance band, and everyone helps to decorate the gym and to sell tickets. The proceeds from the Magazine Sales and Junior Prom help to increase our treasury for our Senior Trip next year.

FRESHMEN

When the Freshmen enter high school, we are faced with the problem of what subjects to take. Under the guidance of Mr. Whitebread and Mrs. Langton, we selected our subjects and started our first year with enthusiasm. Although we do not have any money-making activities until our sophomore year, we have fun trying to gain recognition by trying out for sports, cheerleading, and other high school organizations.

OFFICERS—Student Council Delegate, Carol Berean; Vice President, Stuart Freer; Secretary, Cheryl Reynolds; Treasurer, Gary Beiter; President, Ronald Smith.

HERE'S WHERE . . .

ENGLISH helps us to better our usage of our native tongue through a study of Literature and Oral and Written Communications. ENGLISH helps us to think more clearly, to understand people by reading, to pronounce and spell troublesome words correctly, to learn more about the dictionary and to use correct punctuation and good sentence structure. Communication in the twentieth century is speedy and vital, but ideas are wasted unless one can transmit them effectively to others.

Eric Gabrielson records his speech on "Rights Which We Defend" for the American Legion Oratorical Contest with Jeannette Sycuske at the controls.

CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION covers all sorts of topics: Current History, American History, Geography, Government, Problems facing American Democracy, Ancient and Medieval History. To make this subject easier for us to understand, we use various maps, records, charts and film strips. CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION gives us a foundation which enables us to understand more clearly the world in which we live and the problems with which we are confronted.

EXPERIENCE IS GAINED

The COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT gives the students their first touch of business administration. This department also heads the Krooked Korner Store which sells school supplies to school students. The profits are used for a trip to Syracuse to explore business establishments and an enjoyable evening at the Ice Follies.

Mr. Whitebread's CHEMISTRY CLASS is often made interesting by spectacular experiments. This year the lab has acquired much fine equipment making it much simpler for individual experimentation. Mr. Whitebread is also teaching Freshman General Science and Earth Science this year and the new equipment and supplies have helped these classes greatly. The sciences are very interesting and the students enjoy working together to solve the various problems presented them during the courses.

In the MATH DEPARTMENT an effort is made to study the practical aspects of the subjects. With the use of blue prints, we are attempting to learn scale drawings and other related useful subject matter. Whether it is General Math, Geometry, Algebra or Trig, Mr. Howe's Math classes are popular.

VOCATIONAL COURSES FOR . . .

The Homemaking Department offers courses in the seventh and eighth grades and electives or a three-year major course in high school. The Junior High group, which numbers 50, are studying Clothing, Foods, and Child Care.

Homemaking 1 (Freshman girls) covers Foods, Child Care, Home Nursing, Family Living and Flower Arrangement. The next year in Homemaking II Colors, Clothing, Material and Art in the Home are taught. Homemaking III is a study of Clothing, Home Management, Child Care, Advanced Foods, Family Relations and Consumer Economics.

The Homemaking Department has taken field trips and has given a fashion show in assembly where each of the girls modeled the clothes which she had made. We also entered a Food Contest, offered an after-school coffee hour for the faculty, served breakfasts, buffet lunches and dinners. About 30 high school girls are in Homemaking and each girl is an illustration of the usefulness and popularity of Mrs. Langton's department.

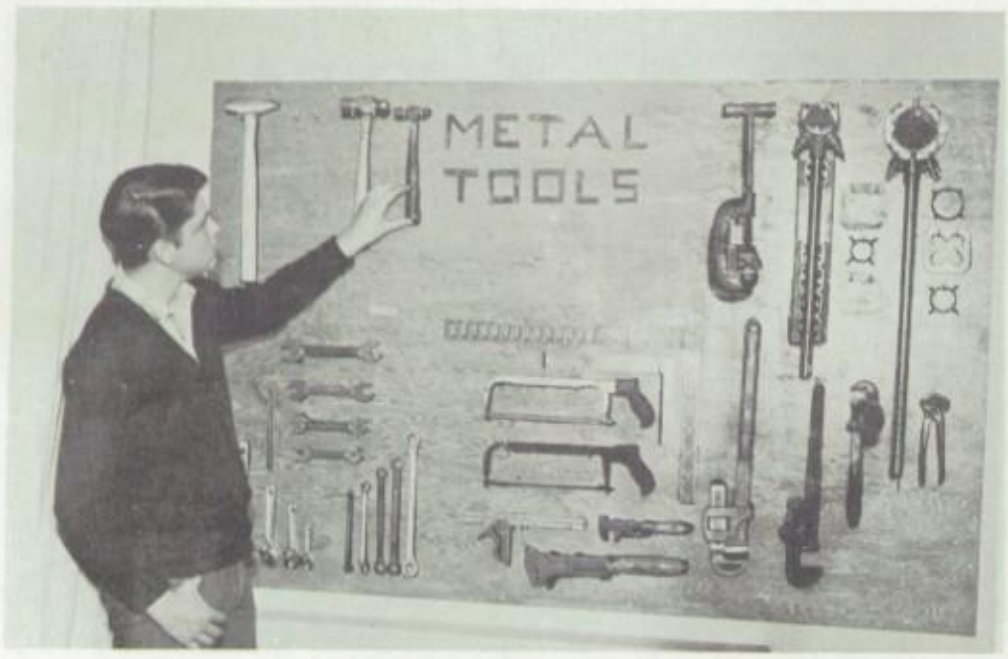
. . . COMMUNITY BETTERMENT



Robert Hines is illustrating where the tools should go on the board. The purpose of this board is to show the need for proper placement of each tool.

Carl is watching Harry put the finishing touches to the card table which he made. It took Harry two years to make this table, in which there are 350 little pieces of wood in the top of the table. Each piece of wood had to be cut out individually and put in its place on the table.

High school agriculture is divided into two sections; pre-vocational and vocational. The first year of pre-vocational is devoted to giving the boys a background of agriculture. Here we study breeds of livestock and crops. Time is also spent learning to select desirable individuals within a breed. Many of us start our projects which are required for the second through fourth years.

Agriculture II, III, and IV are classified as vocational agriculture. Here we become familiar with the problems involved in the operation of a farm. Such units as feeding livestock, applying fertilizer, planning farm buildings, care and repair of machinery, mapping out a life insurance program for a farmer and selecting a good farm are studied. As you can see our best text books for these units are farmers, feed dealers, veterinarians, machinery dealers, and actual doing of the jobs.

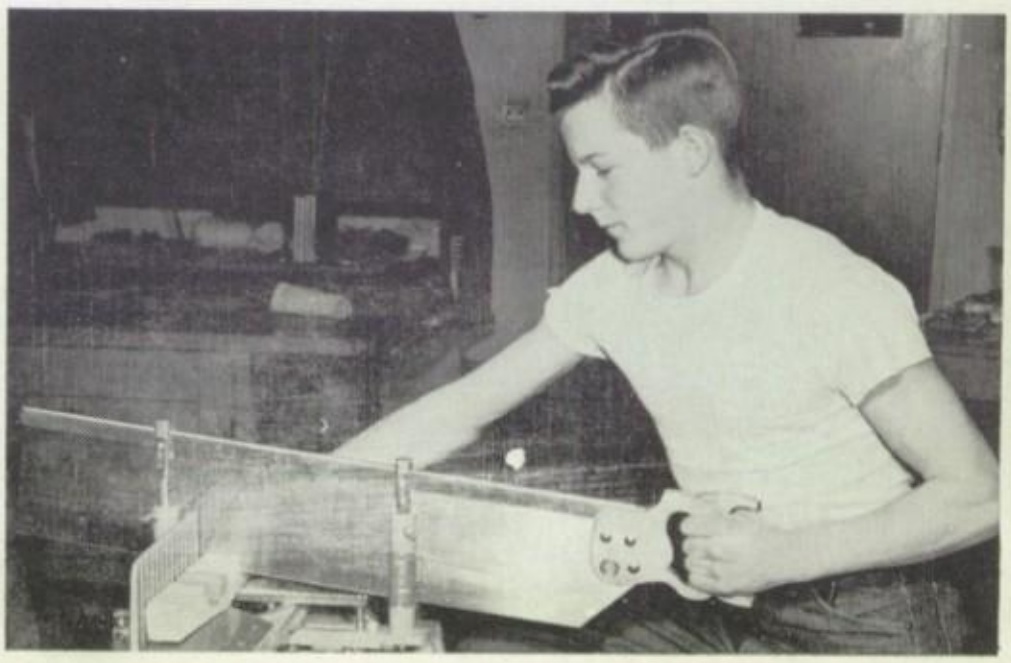
Gary is exhibiting the use of the miter saw. This saw is used for accurate cutting on different angles.



THE FINE ARTS

LATIN

Four boys and five girls make up the second-year LATIN class. Everyday they make some progress toward their goal—an understanding of the language and a high final grade. They are Kenneth, Richard, Evan, Beatrice, Sylvia, Charlotte, Nancy, Richard, and Rosalie. LATIN is the only classical language offered in McGraw this year.

ART

In this picture the General Art class is doing some block printing. They will also do lettering, poster-making, pencil and charcoal sketching and other interesting projects before the half year is completed. ART is taught by Mrs. Taylor through the grades encouraging the self-expression of each child. Besides the General Art course pictured here, a half-year course in Mechanical Drawing is offered for the high school.

MUSIC

These girls are only four of the several trumpet players in the Senior Band. Mr. McGrady is directing a sectional practice where only part of the band meets together. Besides sectional rehearsals there are also private and class lessons.

THE SAFE WAY

For the first time the Driver Training Class was started this year with Mr. Hubbard as instructor. The course lasts for twenty weeks after which each student, who completed the course, will receive a "blue" card. This card enables the driver, before he is eighteen, to obtain his senior operator's license if he passes a driver's test. The students who have finished this course, feel that they will make much better drivers than those who have not taken the driver training course.

The Instructor, Mr. Hubbard is explaining the gears to Patti.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

Our gym class activities run by groups in the different seasons of the year. In the fall, when we first come back to school, we play football, soccer and many other active outside sports.

With the first snowfall the basketball season starts. Under the direction of Coach Potter we learn the fundamentals of basketball and volleyball. As spring starts to appear the basketballs disappear and we start doing stunts and performing on the flying rings. We end our year of physical education by participating in baseball games and track events.

Patty performing on the rings.

Seasons not only affect girls' fashions but they also affect girls' sports. When school starts in the fall we play hockey and soccer. Inside in the winter it's tumbling, flying rings and dancing. Finishing the school year in the Spring we are outside trying our hand at field softball, track and archery. Physical Education is a welcome break in the day's schedule.

Third row: Sandra Bement, Annice Stafford, Nita Kelley, John Nauseef, Ronald Congdon, Douglas Brown, Gary Underwood. Absent: Richard Nauseef, William Tracy.

Looking forward to May and the Albany trip was the incentive to make the card sales a success. Total sales were about $1,250 and a neat profit realized from this. The annual play on March 11th meant hours of practicing, but the "opening night" proved these hours well spent. June meant regents and along with all the outside activities class work kept its pace so that the final day of school came with a feeling of success for the year's effort.

SEVENTH GRADE CLASSES

MEET THE . . .

Robert, Walter, June and Sandra are caring for trees which will be transplanted on the school grounds this spring. The class bought the trees from the Syracuse College of Forestry.

Terry and Sharon are purchasing their meal tickets for lunch in the cafeteria this week from John. Robert, David, and Donna are about to bank their savings for the week with Judy, the cashier.

SIXTH GRADE CLASSES

A unit on Thrift appropriate for the month of January in honoring the birthday of Benjamin Franklin is being observed by a group of selected school bankers from this grade. Thrift is taught not only in terms of money but also in terms of material things. Mary Sykes, Gary, Delores, Michael, and Mary Harris are shown in the picture.

Table setting and correct table manners are demonstrated by a group of girls and boys. Linda, Sandra, and Joyce have discussed the art of table arranging and table serving. Leon, and Gerald join the girls with proper table manners.

FIFTH GRADE CLASSES

Nina is checking out books for Joan and William while Harold is still debating which to read. This grade as a group project, established their own compact library, complete with card catalogue, as a means to further their knowledge and skill in library techniques.

Barbara, Marilyn, Donald and Martin are interested onlookers as Sharon explains the aorta and pulmonary arteries of the heart. This is a part of their health unit on the circulation of the blood.

FOURTH GRADE CLASSES

Absent: Sharon Goff, Bonnie Snyder, Sandra Hamilton, James Perkins, Marilyn Bilodeau, Edward Beaumont, Rosemary Davis, Richard Jackson, Margena Brazee.

CHRISTMAS PLAY SCENES

Martin, Robert, Raymond, Lilla, Dorothy.

These students are examining metals as part of their science course. The children brought their own rocks with which to work.

John, Paul, Theodore, Arlene, Darlene, Roberta, Larry.

These pupils are singing Christmas songs. Larry, standing in front, is directing their singing.

THIRD GRADE CLASSES

Chrystal watches as Terry points out his spelling advancement.

These pupils are learning to spell and pronounce words written on the cards they hold in their hands. Each card has a picture on it to help them associate the word with the picture.

These students are forming pictures by tearing the paper into the desired shapes and pasting them on colored paper. In the background are some samples of their finished appearance.

SECOND GRADE CLASSES

Maryanne, Paul, Rolene, Kent, Linda, and Shirley display a unit on Community Helpers.

Sue, Larry, Terry, Jerrod, Zola, Maynard, Judith are playing a game of Animal Lotto.

Number facts: the boy holding the number card is Larry. Seated are Erika, Elizabeth, Terry, Larry, Dale and Henry.

Eat and Grow; Standing are: Geraldine, Richard, Ernest, William and Virginia. They are showing the nourishing foods they should eat.

Kay, Dolores, and Gerald are learning addition facts by the use of the flannel.

The children are reading birthday stories. Edward is showing the pictures which he drew to Connie and Allen.

FIRST GRADE CLASSES

Robert, Regina, Rita and David are using the post office which they made to go with their unit study of the postman.

John, Carol, and Joyce make stabiles out of clay, pipe cleaners, bobby pins and buttons, as Annette and Maurice watch.

Our housekeeping corner is popular with boys and girls alike. Cooking, eating and marketing are possible every day as Gilda, Sharon Widger and Sharon Smithkin discover.

Carol Ann, Marlene, and Sigrid like the rest of the Kindergarten enjoy building with big blocks and constructing trucks and trailers for carrying the blocks in their play.

The second grade is learning the parts of a whole. They need to compare the parts to find out which is larger or smaller.

These first graders are working on their ABC books. They are learning to write the alphabet and their writing papers are put in the books.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES

Weighing these objects is really enjoyable. At least these children think so. Darryl is writing down the weight of each. They also are learning that it takes 16 ounces to make a pound.

These children are apparently having a good time studying maps of the United States. One map shows industries, another products, and the third one the states, capitals, other cities, railroad centers and airports. The children had previously constructed the maps.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADES

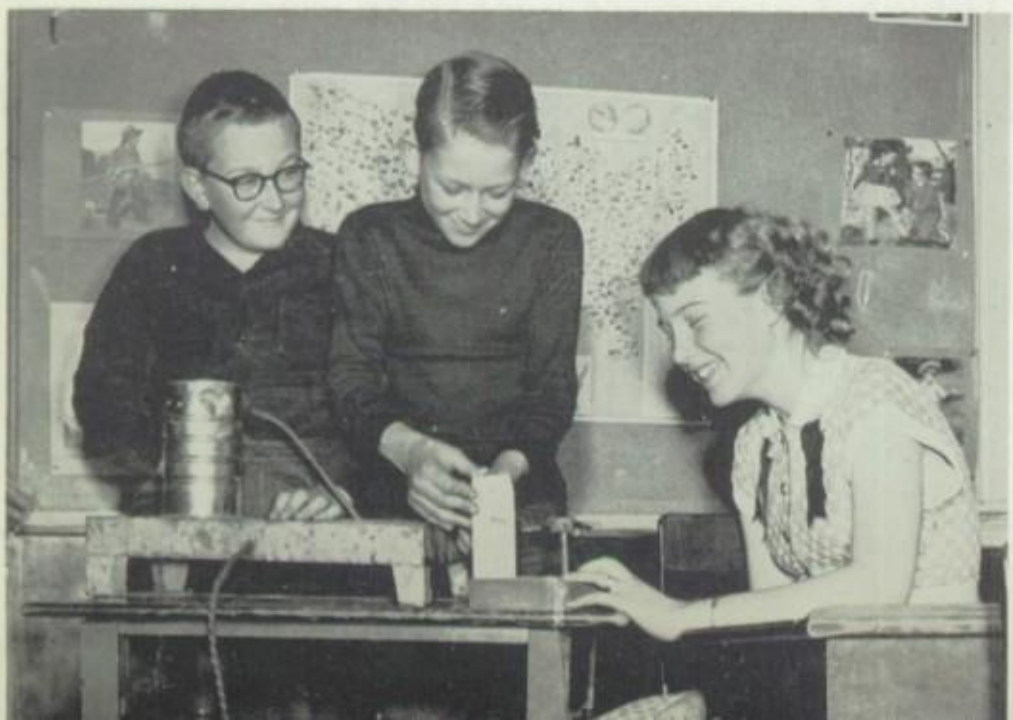
Lida Kinney, Alice Kinney, Janie Owens, Jean Morgan, Adrianne Road, Marilyn Doty, and William Cobb.

In fifth grade language, among other things, we learn the proper way to write letters either accepting or declining invitations.



In this picture, Richard Road is showing Nancy Kinney and James Bacon how he made this turbine and just how it works to turn a generator to generate electricity.

Shortly after we elected officers, we went to Homer Central School for the Cortland County Chapters F.H.A. installation for the county.

We have just finished making Christmas gifts for children, friends and parents. We made such things as spooldolls, toys from washcloths, finger paints and aprons. We are planning to have movies, along with a discussion about child care and baby-sitting. We would like to have a dance or a swimming party at the end of this year.

. . . SUCCESSFUL FARMING

The F.F.A. is a National organization of farm boys. It teaches them the qualities of leadership which a farm boy should possess. The F.F.A. program, under the direction of Mr. Busekist, consists of a number of field trips and many types of experiments during the class period. At the end of the year a banquet is held for all F.F.A. and F.H.A. members. This organization does a fine job training our young men to be good Future Farmers of America.

WE POOLED OUR EFFORTS

The Yearbook Club, composed of high school students, under the leadership of Mrs. Nellenback, spent many hours getting this yearbook ready for publication. Each member of the club had a specific job to do. Some struggled with the Copy work while others worked with the Photography, Typing and Boys' and Girls' Sports committees. With Ed conducting our business meetings, we decided on the publishing company, dedication and other important details that would affect our book. The core of the staff is seniors who have had prior experience working with "The Mac." The assistant editor is a member of the Junior Class who works closely with the present editor in preparation for next year. This year we have a brother and sister team—Ed and Janice Strack. The yearbook Club is an extracurricular activity which draws the largest amount of participation from the students. We have worked very hard to produce the best book we could, hoping the yearbook clubs of the future will continue the fine work.

SERVICE CLUBS

This year in Junior Red Cross we have had many projects. We started in the fall with our membership drive. For this drive we had each representative take the money from his home room and in return the students who gave would receive a J.R.C. pin and a membership card. The students could contribute anything from a penny "up." This year we gave gifts to shut-ins and included among them was a table to Mrs. Crandall. Then there are always the gift boxes for overseas. Every representative is responsible for distributing a certain number of boxes to each of the rooms. Each student in the homeroom is asked to bring an item for the boxes. Such articles as: soap, pencils, small pads, erasers, handkerchiefs, and small toys are needed. These boxes are then sent to the countries that need help so desperately. Last year over 10,000 boxes were sent to Viet Nam by the Junior Red Cross. All of the people in J.R.C. like the work and really enjoy doing it!

Members of the Library Club help to repair old books; "open" new books; and check out books. Among their other duties are: shelving, that is putting books on shelves and straightening the shelves. Library duties vary from filing to other clerical duties. Many members accept responsibility behind the desk such as charging a book. One student is on noon duty at 12:30 for the convenience of students who work during the noon hour. This Library Club service is to teach more students the responsibility of using school equipment.

This is the first year we've had a Modern Dance group. In this picture the girls are learning to tell a story with motions and music. Modern Dance is an outgrowth of Ballet but there is much more freedom of movement. Mrs. Langton has been our advisor and we feel we've really gone a long way in just this one year.

This club has cooked a three course dinner, baked several cakes and different types of cookies. This is the first year for a Boys' Cooking Club and it was sponsored by Mrs. Langton of the Homemaking Department. John Stafford, Felix Hicks, Joe Stabler, John Clark, Gene Nowalk, and Russell Elwood were "would-be chefs" although not pictured in this group. The Club did not survive the year—but whether it was ill-effects from their cooking or an overwhelming concession to the superiority of the female over the male in the kitchen we do not know.

This year's varsity had a mediocre season winning seven and losing twelve. In the nineteen games played the team set a record for the most points scored in one season by a McGraw team. There was also a record number of points scored against us. The team is especially proud of the fact that Ed Strack set an individual record with his 300 points.

The team loses only four seniors this year. There are many hopes for next year's team which will be helped by several men "up" from the Junior Varsity.

This year's baseball team will try to improve the past season's record of seven wins and five losses. The loss of only four regulars gave the team a veteran club for this year. Last year's J.V. Squad gave the regulars some stiff competition for first team positions. This is the first year the teams have played on the new athletic field in back of the school. The J.V. Squad also has an eight game schedule to give them experience for future varsity plays.

The Rifle Club opened its membership to both girls and boys this year and a total of 62 members registered. Instruction was given during noon hour, after school and during two activity periods each week from December to March, in safety, good gun handling and sportsmanship as well as good marksmanship. Although the varsity team was made up of veteran shooters the newcomers made good progress and we should have a well-rounded team each year for several years to come. The girls shot in one natch against Weedsport this year and lost by a lose score of 423 to 429 out of a possible 500.

The rifle team marked its eighth year of competition this season under the capable leadership of Mr. Baer with a record that surpassed the scores of last year's championship team.

Twelve interscholastic matches were scheduled this year. For the first time the team score topped 900, firing 10 shots prone, 5 shots sitting, and 5 shots standing. They scored 900 or more in 6 of the 12 matches.

David Reynolds' score of 190 in the Windsor match tied the previous record score of Charles Byron.

The big event of the year was the N.Y.S.P.H.A.A. Section IV Tournament held at Deposit on March 26 to determine the champion of Section IV.

Ten teams competed. McGraw placed first with 916 out of a possible 1,000, thus taking the Section IV championship two years in a row. We will shoot in the N.R.A. sectionals on April 23 at Deposit. Last year the two we entered in this tournament took 2nd and 3rd place medals with scores of 679 and 660. The competition has been extremely keen this year and the record has been good. The team is aware that it is only through Mr. Baer's untiring efforts and expert coaching that this measure of success has been achieved.

LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN . . .

LEAGUE STANDINGS

League Champions are as follows:
First—Hall's, 9 wins, 2 losses;
Second—Coffee Shop, 8 wins, 3 losses;
Third—Corey's, 3 wins, 8 losses;
Fourth—Victory, 2 wins, 9 losses.

The last two Saturdays of the basketball season playoffs were held under the direction of Coach Potter. In the playoffs Coffee Shop was first, Hall's second, Corey's third and the Victory fourth.

The Nurses' Club is directed by Mrs. Busekist, the school nurse. It was organized in 1953 to acquaint girls with the requirements and procedures used in the field of nursing. Members consist of girls who are planning to make nursing their career.

They have packed Christmas boxes (consisting of food the girls made) for needy families in the community. They plan to take a field trip to a hospital in Syracuse which has a school of nursing. In their monthly club meetings they have had movies illustrating the benefits of first aid.

Mrs. Busekist feels that the club has made great progress in preparing the girls for their future career.

Smith, Roberta Bacon, Mary Lou Allore, Genevieve Ryan, Mary Elizabeth Corey.

Girls from the Junior and Senior High School took "a dip" after school virtually every Wednesday during the school year. The swimmers went by school bus to the Y.W.C.A. in Cortland whose swimming pool was reserved for us at that time. The advanced swimmers helped the beginners and each practiced different strokes and difficult dives. We had an hour lesson—costing each only a mere 20c—Fun!
